DEAR TIMES: Mr. Adsit arrived in El Dorado on Christmas day from Pennsylvania, with his wife and nine children. He stopped in town a few weeks, where the oldest son, fourteen years old, caught the measles. He rented and moved on to the farm of Mr. T. Surdam in this township; when they had been there a week the mother and most of the children took the measles. On the night of the 14th Mrs. Adsit gave birth to a daughter. On the 18th she passed away, leaving ten motherless children, the oldest daughter 16 years old. I hope the people of this vicinity will call in and comfort these stricken ones and see to it that they do not suffer.
