

Parish Church of St. Cyriak

The mighty towers of the parish church can be seen from afar

The construction of the parish church dates back to 1667. After the destruction of the small church in the Thirty Years' War, the construction of a larger church began. The choir with the baroque high altar was added in 1715. Between 1923 and 1927, the church was almost doubled in size. The two domed towers that characterize the townscape of Schapbach until today, was built. A five-part peal is housed in these domed towers. 2007 was a comprehensive interior renovation. Thus, the church shines again in its baroque splendor.
