

Dies After Illness Lasting 22 Years

Death came Wednesday as a welcome relief to Charles B. Denaple, 65, of 360 E. Exchange st. He had been ill for 22 years from kidney trouble, and for a great part of that time had been confined to his bed.

Denaple was a printer and for a number of years was superintendent of the Werner Publishing Co. . Two sons, Richard M. and Charles H., together with the widow, Mrs. Mary E. Denaple, are left.

Funeral services Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home. Burial in Glendale cemetery.
