

Geo. S. Heath leaves soon for western Oklahoma—No-Mans-Land. He confides in the TIMES that he will build an addition to his house. What for? He is to be married --but oh, girls, it's to an Oklahoman. Think of it! Closes his eyes to Butler county beauty and chooses a territorial immigrant. This is terrible and the TIMES admits that Heath is running away under the estimate.