

Will Heath was adjudged insane in the probate court this afternoon. Heath was employed at A. J. Holderman's farm until a few weeks ago, when he fell on a sidewalk and injured his leg. Since the accident his mind, which was already growing weak, has become greatly deranged. A week ago he tried to commit suicide by cutting his throat with a pocket knife. Had the instrument not been dull he would have succeeded in his purpose. This morning he again tried to take his life by driving a large nail into his temple with a rock. His brother, Frank Heath, arrived just in time to prevent him from striking the fatal blow.
