

HEATH CLAIM IS PAID

Mrs. Ada Heath has been paid the insurance on her husband's life, something more than a thousand dollars. This was a close and a hard fought case. Heath had a policy in the Modern Woodmen of America. One day he arose from the dinner table, went out to a corn crib, a shot was heard and Heath was found a corpse. The Woodmen set up insanity and under a clause of the policy claimed exemption from payment. Mrs. Heath secured a verdict and notice of appeal was given. But the organization, prompted by the State Insurance Commissioner, concluded to settle.

Mooney & Stratford were Mrs. Heath's attorneys. The interest in the case has been great, and that she has won is a matter of congratulation.
